Dear Healthcare Professional,

I am delighted to provide you with this exclusive guide to the Africa Health Congress 2012, to be held from 9-11 May 2012, at the Johannesburg Expo Centre Nasrec, South Africa.

Africa Health is a major three-day exhibition and congress dedicated to all healthcare professionals and medical trade buyers. Africa Health, part of Informa Exhibitions’ successful life sciences portfolio, is also the sister event of Arab Health, the second largest healthcare event in the world.

Informa Exhibitions has been attracting the best medical expertise for over 35 years and now brings its experience to the Africa Health Congress.

The first edition of Africa Health launched in May 2011 and was a great success with hundreds of delegates attending from 32 sub-Saharan African countries, including delegations from the Ministries of Health of Namibia and Malawi. Over 150 renowned local and international speakers presented the latest advances and updates in their medical specialities.

For the 2nd edition, Africa Health will host a congress featuring 12 clinical and non-clinical conferences, all CPD-accredited, from imaging and radiology, medical laboratory through to mobile health, quality standards and infectious diseases*.

In order to present you with an even broader programme, we are introducing four new conferences for this year's congress:

- Pan-African Paediatrics Conference 2012
- Pan-African Orthopaedics Conference 2012
- m+Health in Africa – 2012
- Pan-African Healthcare Management Conference 2012

Running alongside the congress, the Africa Health Exhibition showcases the products and services of over 450 exhibitors, including leading companies such as Draeger, Fujifilm, Karl Storz, Nihon Kohden, Maquet, and many more. In 2011, more than 30 nations were represented including pavilions from China, Germany, France, Korea, India, Taiwan, Italy, Bavaria, USA and Iran.

Join us at the Africa Health Congress, 9-11 May 2012, to network with your peers, share knowledge and gain CPD credits.

Kind regards,

Simon Page
Managing Director,
Lifesciences Middle East,

Agenda: Wednesday, 9 May 2012

9.50 Welcome from Informa

9.55 An Overview by your Chairman and Introduction of your Keynote
   Dr. Norman Mabasa, Chairman, South African Medical Association, South Africa

Opening Keynote
10.00 Why Africa needs a Passionate Overhaul and How Will it be Addressed
   This presentation will explain South Africa’s responsible role in Africa, how it sets the tone for a regional overhaul. SAMA has plans which will be shared in this presentation moving forward.
   His Excellency Dr. Aaron Motsoaledi, Minister of Health, South Africa (invited)

11.00 Coffee Break

PLENARY SESSION:

11.30 The Effects of Healthcare Privatisation in the Region
   Privatisation has been implemented successfully across the globe. Considering South Africa’s leading role in the region, its dependant neighbours and an emerging economy waiting to boom, how should Privatisation take effect in the short and long term?
   His Excellency Dr. Aaron Motsoaledi
   Minister of Health
   South Africa (invited)
   Dr. Norman Mabasa
   Chairman
   South African Medical Association, South Africa

13.00 Lunch

14.30 The Impact of Technology in Healthcare?
   Financial constraints have always debated the adoption of technology versus investment in primary care. Does technology really drive costs or improve quality?
   Speaker to be confirmed

15.15 HR (Human Resources) – The real reason why we can’t retain them
   Besides an insatiable appetite for growth the industry has a shortage of ancillary resources. The reasons are obvious and are being addressed but how long will it take to reverse the effects of this change via training, policy changes and cross border migration?
   Bassam Al Sayed, Chief Operating Officer, Corniche Hospital, Abu Dhabi, UAE, Johns Hopkins Medicine International, and Faculty Associate, Johns Hopkins Bloomberg School of Public Health, Department of Health Policy and Management, USA

9.55 Introduction by the Chairman
Dr. Danan van Logueberggen, Acting General Manager and Head: Private Practice Department, South African Medical Association, South Africa

10.00 A doctor's perspective
What role does a doctor play in an ever-changing healthcare industry where technology is as integrated to the doctor's diagnosis, treatment and post-treatment care as he/she is to the patient? Does he/she sit on the side lines or can he/she be at the forefront of this massive transition? At the end of the day, the doctor and patient have a unique relationship which even technology cannot facilitate.
Dr. Danan van Logueberggen, Acting General Manager and Head: Private Practice Department, South African Medical Association, South Africa

10.30 Benefits of remote monitoring in chronic care
Africa's epidemics have taken the attention away from chronic care. Decision-makers sit on the fence debating if they should address the dying of those in need of long-term managed care. Perhaps Africa has found the solution to both via the use of mobile technology in healthcare.
Dr. Brian Chikwadi, Head of Health Technologies, AngloGold Ashanti, South Africa (invited)

11.00 Coffee Break

11.30 Who sets the tone for mHealth in Africa?
Stakeholders have often taken a back seat in leading this innovative industry. Regulators, insurers, physicians and healthcare providers have always adapted to demographic change.
Dr. Danan van Logueberggen, Acting General Manager and Head: Private Practice Department, South African Medical Association, South Africa

Day 2 – Friday, 11 May 2012

9.55 Recap of Day 1 by the Chairman
Kenneth Seymens, Managing Partner, Medica IQ, USA

10.00 Integrated Healthcare – Can we afford to sit on the fence?
An ideal delivery model would include a platform of infra structure and technology integrating healthcare delivery to deliver customised content. How do we align stakeholders to move ahead?
Dr. Ruchi Das, Founder and CEO, HealthCure Consulting Group, India

11.00 Announcement of a new event: Vision 2020 – A transition lead by Healthcare Management
Africa's healthcare landscape is experiencing strategic change. It is on a boarder of a layer of maturity which needs strong management. What is the stage of play in Africa and how does it envision the end of the decade?
Prof. Alex van den Heever, Regional Advisor, Health Technology and Biomedical Devices, World Health Organization, Egypt

11.30 EHR (Electronic Health Records) – Beyond the synergy?
Amongst core foundations of NIH is a nationwide EHR system. The ambitions, as with any system, it accelerates the success factors in generating revenue seamlessly in NIH. This presentation focuses on the implementation plan which aligns to our national strategy for room for expansion and improvement as we move towards a state-of-the-art healthcare system.
Craig White, Vice-President and Managing Director, Cerner Middle East Africa, USA

11.30 Lunch

12.00 The challenges of introducing a National Health Insurance (NHI) model
The session will discuss the core challenges which form the necessity to charge, just as the National Health Services (NHS - UK) did after 40 years. Humana Europe was commissioned to the NHS – UK attending to 152 FPC (Primary Care Trusts).
Kenneth Seymens, Managing Partner, Medica IQ, USA

13.00 Lunch

13.40 Primary versus tertiary care – Is there place in Africa for the latter?
Based on primary care have navigated the industry to focus no further. Africa is advancing towards secondary care, medical tourism and influx of practitioners as the healthcare systems begins its overhaul. Perhaps the time is now for secondary care to become improved outcomes and better access to medical care?
Bongani Mayosi, Professor and Head Department of Medicine, University of Cape Town, South Africa (invited)

14.00 The Diepsloot township case study
The Role of Pharma in seamless Healthcare
Pharma has always been the leader in the scene. It caters to the core foundations of epidemics and chronic illness but is seldom known as the key contributor.
This session will highlight the focus Pharma sees for better implementation of NIH and NHI.
Zane Wilson, Founder and Director, The South African Depression and Anxiety Group, South Africa

16.00 Close of Day 1
Healthcare in Africa is undergoing drastic change, with the impending National Health Insurance Plan implementation, as well as with the large private investment taking place in Africa’s healthcare system.

This drastic change will result in a “re-engineering” of healthcare services and infrastructure not only in South Africa, but across Africa as a whole.

As a senior professional in the healthcare sector it is imperative that you stay on-top of the latest developments in the healthcare industry so you are positioned to drive this change forward.

The Africa Health Exhibition will take place from 9-11 May 2012, and will feature the latest innovations and developments in medical equipment and solutions from leaders in the healthcare industry such as Draeger, Karl Storz, Maquet, Fuji, Terumo and many more.

Whether you are interested in solutions on a hospital, national or regional level, or are looking for products and information specific to a speciality such as orthopaedics, paediatrics or cardiology, then Africa Health can’t be missed.

“\textit{It was an absolute eye-opener for our business, and we have already started to implement changes we have adopted from the exhibition.}”
Mr. Bully Nkowane, Operations Manager, Nkowane Medical Supplies, Johannesburg, South Africa (Visitor at Africa Health 2011)

“\textit{It was a very useful event. It helped me understand a bit more about healthcare in Africa from a procurement perspective and the logistic problems of service agreements.}”
Dr. Dayo Ajayi-Obe, Consultant, Health Quest Capita, Lagos, Nigeria (Visitor at Africa Health 2011)

“\textit{Excellent, it gave our company the opportunity to meet some of our suppliers face-to-face, which assisted in building long term relationships.}”
Dr. Cohen Tjale, Managing Director, Kgadi Healthcare Consultants, Johannesburg, South Africa (Visitor at Africa Health 2011)
